

Guidelines for publication “European Poultry Science”

Subjects and languages of publication

1. The “Archiv für Geflügelkunde” (European Poultry Science) publishes scientific original papers, critical reviews, reports, and book reviews in the whole field of poultry science.
2. Papers can be published in German or English with summaries in the other language.

Manuscripts

The articles should not be published elsewhere before and have to be written in appropriate language style. Manuscripts written in poor English or German and manuscripts which are not strictly prepared according to the guidelines of the Journal will be rejected. Authors not familiar with the English language are requested to ask for assistance before submission of the manuscript. The evaluation of the manuscripts is done by a peer referee system. Manuscripts are sent to two reviewers, in general. The Editor decides on acceptance or rejection of the papers.

In the case of recommended revision of the manuscript authors have to include corrections in the file which is sent back by the Editor along with the result of the evaluation process. Authors must respond to the letter of the Editor within 4 weeks, else the manuscript will be finally rejected.

A page charge of € 28.00 has to be paid per printed page in the Journal for each accepted manuscript. For manuscripts exceeding 8 printed pages a page charge of € 100.00 has to be paid for the 9th and further following pages. No manuscript will be printed without payment of the page charge. With the galley proofs the corresponding author will receive an invoice from the Publisher over the total charge. Please note the correct address.

Form of the manuscripts

1. Manuscripts have to be submitted by e-mail to the Editor-in chief, currently Prof. Dr. Michael Grashorn (e-mail: michael.grashorn@uni-hohenheim.de). The manuscript has to be prepared on DIN A4 pages with margins of 2.5 cm and 1 1/2 space between lines in letter size 12 point.
2. Manuscripts should not be longer than 20 pages (70.000 characters incl. spaces). Papers on preliminary results with less than 8 pages may be printed preferentially as “Short Communications”. All tables, figures (diagrams), and the list of references have to be included in the numbering of pages.
3. Original papers should usually be divided into the following sections: Introduction, Material and Methods, Results, Discussion, Conclusions, Acknowledgements, Summary, Keywords, Zusammenfassung, Stichworte and References. The significance of the results for poultry breeding and keeping should be emphasized in the discussion. For non-German authors translations of title, headings of tables and figures, summary, and keywords will be done by the Editor.
4. Names of the authors cited in the text have to be written in CAPITALS.
5. The name(s) of the author(s) (initials of the first names for men, write the full for women) are written under the title. The name(s) and the location(s) of the institution(s) where the work has been carried out have to be quoted directly below the names of authors without street names and city codes.
6. The complete address of the author for correspondence (author or co-author) including e-mail address must be given at the end of the manuscript.
7. Shortcuts are only allowed if internationally used. Energy contents of diets have to be given as MJ metabolizable energy (ME) and reference or formula for calculation must be provided.
8. Tables, figures and legends of illustrations have to be enclosed on separate pages at the end of the manuscript or in a separate file. The lettering of tables and diagrams should be chosen in sufficient size that they can be read when reduced to the width of the column.
9. A short running title of the paper has to be given.
10. Lines of the manuscript have to be numbered continuously.

Figures and Tables

1. Results may be presented either in form of tables or figures. Double presentation for the same results has to be omitted.
2. Numbers have to be given as follows: numbers < 1 with 3 decimals, numbers > 1 and < 10 with 2 decimals, numbers > 10 and < 100 with 1 decimal, numbers > 100 without decimals.
3. Diagrams should be enclosed as Word, PowerPoint or Excel files.

4. Digital images should have a colour density of at least 300 dpi.
5. For images all current formats can be used (also with Macintosh).
6. Coloured figures or pictures can be reproduced at the author's expense of € 882.00 for the first photo and € 40.90 for each subsequent colour reproduction on the same print sheet.

Literature

1. Only essential and commonly accessible literature should be cited, e.g. books, articles in journals, and PhD theses on the same subject (no diploma works).
2. Citation of references has to be restricted to most recent ones. Authors are requested to check previous issues of the Journal European Poultry Science for suitable publications on the topic.
3. The name(s) of the author(s) should be written in CAPITALS.
4. The cited references are listed at the end of the paper in alphabetical order by the first author. In the text references are presented by name of the author(s) and year of publication (e.g. JEROCH et al., 2011).
5. When citing publications from journals, the following sequence applies: all authors (with initials of the first names) – year of publication complete title of the publication – journal – volume number (bold) – (issue number if necessary) – page numbers of the publications.
Example: HIPPENSTIEL, F., A.A.A. ABDEL-WARETH, S. KEHRAUS, K.-H. SÜDEKUM, 2011: Effects of selected herbs and essential oils, and their active components on feed intake and performance of broilers – a review. Arch. Geflügelk. 75, 226-234.
6. Books are cited as follows: author (with initials of the first names) year of publication – complete title of the book – edition (form the 2. edition on) – publisher – place ISBN or ISSN – pages. Example: JEROCH, H., S. DÄNICKE, 2011: Faustzahlen der Geflügelfütterung. In: DAMME, K., C. MÖBIUS: Geflügeljahrbuch 2012. Eugen Ulmer KG, Stuttgart, ISBN 978-3-8001-7585-7, 160-199.
7. For the first author the abbreviated first name is given after the name and for further authors preceding the names. Between the last but one and the last author ‘and’ has to be omitted.
8. Usually the title of a paper should be cited in the original language. Languages with own characters (e.g. Russian, Arabic, Japanese) should be cited in English translation.

Copyright

The existence, period and extent of the copyrights are recorded in the imprint of the journal.

Honorarium/Reprints

Instead of a royalty authors will receive a printable PDF file of their paper by e-mail which they may distribute to interested colleagues without limitations. Reprints are available for charge. A pricelist can be demanded from the Publisher.

Internet appearance

More information on the Journal “Archiv für Geflügelkunde” is displayed on the Homepage of the Journal (www.archiv-fuer-gefluegelkunde.de). Interested people will find there the guidelines for authors and the contents and abstracts of the last issue, as well as of the volumes back till 2002 (Vol. 66). The full text of the papers of the last four volumes can be downloaded by “pay per click”, whereas, the full text of the papers of the older volumes can be downloaded without charge.

Submission of manuscripts

The receipt of manuscripts will only be acknowledged by e-mail. In the same way, letters of acceptance and the whole correspondence will exclusively be sent by e-mail. Authors can follow the current state of their manuscript on the homepage of the Journal (www.archiv-fuer-gefluegelkunde.de) by using the manuscript identification number under the link manuscript processing. Before printing of the manuscript, a galley proof is sent by e-mail, where misprints can be corrected. Extended corrections caused by authors will be charged to the author at a rate of € 52.00 per hour.

Manuscripts should be sent to the present Editor-in chief: Prof. Dr. Michael A. Grashorn, European Poultry Science, c/o 470 Dept. of Poultry Science, University Hohenheim, 70593 Stuttgart, Germany; e-mail: michael.grashorn@uni-hohenheim.de.

Verlag Eugen Ulmer
December 2011